Annapolis

He married Ketura Shipley, daughter of Adam Shipley the Immigrant sometime before 9 August, 1693, at which time he received from his brother-in-law Richard Shipley (the administrator of his father, Adam Shipley's estate) 100 acres of a tract of land called Shipley's Choice, located on the south side of the Severn River.

No. 1, folio 8

On 29 September, 1712, Richard Shipley granted to James Barnes 103 acres known as Eve's Dower, part of a larger tract called Adam the First, taken up by Adam Shipley the Immigrant in 1637. This land was located in Howard County, near the community of Oakland Mills. Later on, Richard, son of James and Ketura would inherit the tract, and he would sell it to his brother Peter.

The children³ of James Barnes and Ketura Shipley² were: Adam³; James³; Susanna³, b. 15 May, 1715; Nathan³, b. 18 June, 1717; Ketura³; Richard³; Robert³.

birth dates are from Paris Reg. of St. Anne's Church, Annapolis

Adam Barnes³ of James Barnes and Ketura Shipley²

About 1732 he married Hannah Dorsey, of John of Col. Edward Dorsey, and John's wife Honor____. Hannah was born 26 August 1709, so Adam was probably born 1700-1710.

parentage and marriage lines from Dorsey-Nimmo, The Dorsey Family parentage also given in The Shipleys of Maryland.

Adam owned a great deal of land in Howard County. Some he patented and surveyed himself, some he bought, and he inherited some from his father-in-law, John Dorsey. He and his brother Peter Barnes were on the vestry of Queen Caroline Parish, in Howard County, when Caleb and John Dorsey deeded the vestry the land on which the present Christ (P.E.) Church now stands.

Adam made his will 19 November 1763, and it was filed 16 February, 1779 in Anne Arundel County. From this will and the Anne Arundel County Land Records we have been able to find the names of his children and who they married.

Anne Arundel Co. Wills Book EV No. 1 Folio 32

Adam and Hannah (Dorsey) Barnes (see page 2a)

John Barnes⁴ of Adam Barnes³ and Hannah Dorsey

He died intestate in Baltimore County in 1800. He married Hammatal, daughter of Robert Tivis. Robert Tivis mentions his daughter Hammatal in his will filed in Baltimore County.

Although he probably belonged to the Episcopal Church in his younger days, he became a Methodist at a time when Methodism was the predominant faith in that section of the state. In 1809, he and a group of other Methodist men bought a section of land for the erection of a church and a school.

He died in 1809, leaving a will, and his widow married George F. Miller (Balto. Co. Marr. Lic. 28 Dec., 1809). From his will and from Chancery Paper 348, we learn the names of his children. The children of Adam Barnes and Ruth Shipley were:

Robert⁶, Casseener⁶, Rachel⁶, Adam⁶, Naomi⁶ married Loyd Pool, Joshua⁶, Hammutal⁶, Polly⁶ married Benjamin Haines, Henry⁶, Josiah⁶, Margaret⁶, Ruth⁶, Sariann⁶, Susanna⁶, Ann⁶, and Samuel⁶.

Robert Barnes⁶ of Adam Barnes⁵ and Ruth Shipley

He was named as the eldest son in his father's will. He was probably born 1785-1786. He died in 1855 in Carroll County. He married Sarah Smith, daughter of John Smith and Mary Arnold. (Balto. Co. Marr. Lic. 18 Dec., 1813.) From their wills, we learn the names of their children. The children of Robert Barnes and Sarah Smith were: Robert S.⁷, Levi Tivis⁷, Rachel⁷, Sarah⁷ married Richard Frizzel, Nimrod Henry⁷, Burgess Nelson⁷, Adam S.⁷, and Eliza⁷ married _____ Hughes.

Will of Robert Barnes was made 16 April, 1852 and filed 21 May, 1855, in Carroll Co. Sarah Barnes' will is in Carroll Co. Will Book 3, f. 380

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the car was the cold. It was a sharp contrast to the warm blanket I had been sitting under. I looked up at the sky, which was a pale, hazy blue. The air smelled like a mix of fresh earth and distant fires. I took a deep breath, feeling the cold air fill my lungs. It was a strange sensation, but I knew it was necessary. I had to be ready for whatever came next.

I walked towards the building, my boots crunching on the snow. The ground was covered in a thick layer of white, and the trees were bare, their branches reaching out like skeletal fingers. I felt a sense of isolation, but also a sense of purpose. I knew I was here for a reason, and I was determined to find it. The building ahead of me was large and imposing, with many windows that looked like eyes. I approached it with a mix of curiosity and caution.

As I entered the building, I was greeted by a man in a dark coat. He had a stern expression, but his eyes were kind. He led me to a room that was simple but comfortable. I sat down on the bed, feeling a sense of relief. The man spoke to me, his words clear and direct. I listened intently, trying to understand what he was saying. He seemed to know a lot about what I was going through, and I felt a connection to him. It was a relief to have someone who understood.

I stayed in that room for a few days, feeling a sense of peace. The man visited me often, and we talked about everything. He told me about the world outside, about the people I might meet. I listened to him, feeling a sense of hope. I knew I was not alone, and I was not in danger. I was safe, and I was being cared for. It was a good feeling, and I knew I was going to be okay. I was going to find my way, and I was going to be happy.

I was told that the world was a big place, and I was going to see it all. I was going to meet people from all over the world, and I was going to learn about their lives. I was going to be a part of something big, and I was going to make a difference. I was going to be a hero, and I was going to be loved. I was going to be everything I had ever dreamed of, and I was going to be happy.

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGEMENT

1. The purpose of this study is to determine the effect of the proposed project on the environment. The study was conducted in accordance with the requirements of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The results of the study are presented in this report.

2. The proposed project is a development project located in the State of California. The project consists of the construction of a new facility and the expansion of an existing facility. The project is expected to have a significant impact on the environment.

3. The environmental impact of the proposed project has been studied in detail. The study has identified the potential impacts of the project on the environment, including the effects on air quality, water resources, and wildlife. The study has also identified the measures that can be taken to avoid, minimize, and compensate for the impacts of the project.

4. The results of the study indicate that the proposed project will have a significant impact on the environment. The impacts are expected to be both direct and indirect. The direct impacts are those that are caused by the project itself, while the indirect impacts are those that are caused by the changes in land use and other factors that are associated with the project. The study has found that the impacts of the project are likely to be significant and that measures should be taken to avoid, minimize, and compensate for the impacts.

John Barnes (who MAY have been a son of John of Nathan of James and Ketura) died before 16 April, 1822, when the first account of his estate was filed in Anne Arundel County (AA Acct's, Liber TII No 2, f. 204). Elizabeth Barnes was appointed the guardian of his minor children. She died in 1826, and Perry G. Elder was appointed guardian of the children.

John Barnes on 6 January, 1804, had purchased from James Porter for the sum of 200 pounds current money 100 acres, parts of Shipley's Discovery, in three tracts. John Barnes identified himself as John Barnes of John. (Anne Arundel Deeds Liber VII No 12, f. 355). On the 6 September, James Porter's wife, Ann, confirmed the sale - however by this time she and her husband were living in Ross County, Ohio. (Anne Arundel Deeds Liber VII No 12, f. 526).

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
DIVISION OF THE PHYSICAL SCIENCES
DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
JANUARY 1950
TO THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES
FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
SUBJECT: REPORT ON THE PROGRESS OF THE RESEARCH PROGRAM DURING THE YEAR 1949

The Department of Chemistry has been fortunate in having a very successful year in 1949. The research program has been carried out in a most efficient manner, and the results have been of a high quality. The following is a summary of the work done during the year:

1. Organic Chemistry: The work of the Organic Chemistry section has been directed towards the synthesis of new compounds and the study of their properties. The following are some of the results:

- (a) The synthesis of a new class of compounds, the 1,2-dithianes, which have been found to have interesting properties.
- (b) The study of the reaction of 1,2-dithianes with various reagents, which has led to the discovery of new reactions.
- (c) The synthesis of a new class of compounds, the 1,2-dithianes, which have been found to have interesting properties.

2. Inorganic Chemistry: The work of the Inorganic Chemistry section has been directed towards the study of the properties of various inorganic compounds. The following are some of the results:

- (a) The study of the properties of various inorganic compounds, which has led to the discovery of new reactions.
- (b) The synthesis of a new class of compounds, the 1,2-dithianes, which have been found to have interesting properties.

3. Physical Chemistry: The work of the Physical Chemistry section has been directed towards the study of the properties of various physical systems. The following are some of the results:

- (a) The study of the properties of various physical systems, which has led to the discovery of new reactions.
- (b) The synthesis of a new class of compounds, the 1,2-dithianes, which have been found to have interesting properties.

Thomas Barnes (of John), was born ca. 1805. He married Louisa _____, who was born ca. 1808.
